Giant trucks for sludge hauling are recommended

Instead of using small, inefficient pickup trucks to haul sludge from the Granite City sewage treatment plants to the sanitary landfill, Terrence McMillan, superintendent of the plants, is asking the council to consider purchasing a large truck and three trailers for that purpose.

The issue was referred to the council's finance committee for a recommendation, but several aldermen said the proposal offered by McMillan sounded feasible. "I think we are on the right track here," Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward, chairman of the sanitation committee, commented.

McMillan said Granite City is not being a good neighbor to the Granite City Army Installation, allowing piles of sludge to accumulate near the plant, which is on the Army's property. "The Illinois Pollution Control Board wants us to remove it," McMillan said. He also noted that the Army and the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency have indicated they would prefer the sludge be moved.

McMillan told the council that his crews haul as much of the sludge as they can, in the small pickup trucks, to the dump during the daytime, but have been prohibited from hauling it after 5 p.m. Milan East, operators of the Mal Landfill, which the city uses, was charging the city $5,000 per month for those months when the landfill was used beyond closing hours.

"We are working toward a permanent solution, but this seems to be the only economic alternative," the superintendent said.

The amount of sludge currently generated by the plant would require 16 hours a day to haul away in the pickup trucks available. "We don't have enough trucks to remove it during the daytime," he explained.

He proposes purchasing three trailers and one truck tractor, so 18-wheel rigs can be used to haul the sludge. The trailers, 24 feet long, hold 22 cubic yards of sludge each and the sludge can be held in them up to 18 hours, which would make it feasible to haul only during the daytime, without depositing sludge on the ground, McMillan said.

The pickup trucks now used hold only five cubic yards of sludge each.

"This would allow us to reorganize and do things more efficiently at the plant," he said, explaining some of the persons used in hauling numerous loads of sludge could be freed for other duties, since only one driver would be needed for the larger trucks.

The council was told that there is sufficient money in the sludge hauling budget to purchase one of the large trailers. A municipal lease purchase agreement could be arranged for the tractor and the other two trailers at a total cost of $131,000, which would cost the city roughly $2,750 per month.

Associated Bankers has agreed to loan the city the $131,000, McMillan added.

Alderman Glen Sprankle, chairman of the treatment plant committee, made a motion that the council immediately seek bids on the trailer and three trailers, but Alderman Whitmer suggested that the bidding wait until the finance committee has had an opportunity to study the funding aspects.

Alderman Mac Warfield of the Sixth Ward commended McMillan for a good job in cleaning up the treatment plant. "I visited the other day. He is doing a good job. That's the cleanest I've ever seen it," Warfield said.

GC man electrocuted

Larry R. Clutts, 27, of 2020 Ohio Ave., was electrocuted at 2:40 p.m. Sunday while apparently mixing concrete in the rear yard of his home.

Initial efforts to revive Mr. Clutts were made by Granite City Fireman Donald Hayes, who administered cardiopulmonary resuscitation.

When the emergency measures proved unsuccessful, Mr. Clutts was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center. He was pronounced dead by a physician at 3:05 p.m. Sunday.

Police said a cord from an electric saw was laying in a puddle of water. The puddle appeared to have been created by water running from a garden hose.

Mr. Clutts, who may have picked up the saw, suffered an electric shock and fell to the ground.

A 16-year-old nephew of Mr. Clutts may have witnessed the accident. The youth was unable to give details to officers at the time due to his emotional condition.

Mr. Clutts, the father of a 7-year-old girl, was a lifelong resident of Granite City. He had been hired by the Granite City municipal street department two weeks ago.

Further information concerning the survivors and funeral arrangements may be found in the obituary column of today's Press-Record.

Man, 26, stabbed

Robert J. Lane II, 26, of 2828 Victory Drive, was found lying on the sidewalk in the 1600 block of Edison Avenue, bleeding from a large stab wound to the abdomen, at 4:20 a.m. Friday.

His assailant is being sought, authorities said.

Lane was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center and admitted to the Intensive Care Unit with a 10-inch cut to the abdomen.

When police officers arrived at the scene they found a 23-year-old Granite City man sitting next to the victim.

The man was yelling for an ambulance and apparently his cries had been heard by nearby residents who alerted police.

An 18-year-old Granite City woman and a 28-year-old Mitchell woman were standing near the wounded man. Neither are suspect in the case.

None of those at the scene could tell police what had occurred.

Lane was in satisfactory condition today at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Sam Pershall Sr. dies

Samuel Estes Pershall Sr., 82, board chairman of the Tri-City Grocery Company and a longtime business leader in this metropolitan area and region, died Sunday, Aug. 31, 1980, at 7:35 p.m. at St. John's Mercy Medical Center, St. Louis County.

In ill health for the past three months, he had been hospitalized for three weeks.

Mr. Pershall, who resided at 2833 Cleveland Boulevard, Granite City, had guided for many years the operation of the Tri-City Grocery supermarkets in a wide area of Illinois and neighboring Missouri.

NAACP assails committee makeup

The Madison Branch of the NAACP (National Association for the Advancement of Colored People) has blasted the Madison Board of Education for limiting the NAACP's role in desegregation efforts at Blair School.

In a letter to School Board President Sam Dymas, the Rev. John Henry Williams, president of the local NAACP branch, said the school board has refused to meet with NAACP representatives and is attempting to limit the group's representation on a citizens' advisory committee on the Blair desegregation issue.

Superintendent of Schools John Palchiff said last week he has been displeased with the Madison School Board's recent decision restricting the NAACP delegate to the Advisory Committee, to Madison School District residents of our membership."

Rev. Williams also stated in the letter, "As part of a national organization whose goals are to insure that all public schools are desegregated, our branch resents your implication that our delegate to the advisory committee must reside in the Madison School district."

That angered Rev. Williams, who stated in his letter to Dymas, "The Madison Branch of the NAACP is displeased with the Madison School Board's recent decision restricting the NAACP delegate to the Advisory Committee, to Madison School District residents of our membership."

Rev. Williams also stated in the letter, "As part of a national organization whose goals are to insure that all public schools are desegregated, our branch resents your implication that our delegate to the advisory committee must reside in the Madison School district."

Voter registration drive by Realtors

A nationwide campaign to register at least five million additional Americans who are eligible to vote was launched Monday by the National Association of Realtors. Enlisting the services of its 1,828 local boards of realtors across the country to provide nonpartisan voter registration information in their communities, the 700,000-member association also is sponsoring a series of announcements encouraging Americans to register and vote.

More than one-third of all American citizens age 18 and above are not registered to vote, and only 57 percent of the registered voters went to the polls in the last election, said Ralph W. Pritchard, president.

"Our goal," he said, "is to encourage at least 5 million eligible Americans to register before election day Nov. 4, and to exercise their right to vote." Illinoisans are registering this month if they have not previously registered. The voter registration drive by the Realtors marks the first time that a national trade association has conducted such a campaign with the approval of the Federal Election Commission. In any advisory opinion issued June 2, the commission determined that such campaigns are permitted as long as they are conducted in a nonpartisan manner and satisfy other specific requirements.

Earlier this year, the National Association of Realtors conducted a voter registration drive among its members. The goal was to increase the number of association members registered to vote to 90 percent from 72 percent.

"Realtors, as citizens, are aware of the importance of the electoral process and want all Americans to become involved," Pritchard said.

"If every eligible American assumes his or her responsibility to participate in the voting process, then we can be assured that our American way of life will be protected and preserved."

"When citizens fail to exercise their right to vote, they invite bad leaders and bad government."

Total costs, to be funded by Student Welfare and Recreation Funds, is estimated at $500,000. The structure would be adjacent to the Communications Building (shown in background), where the departments of music, theater and dance are located.

High speed cars pose threat

A complaint was lodged Thursday with the Press-Record concerning the danger of high speed cars in residential areas.

A woman in the 2400 block of Adams Street has had two dogs run over in the last three years and has seen several children nearly hit by fast moving cars.

She feels that speed limits in residential areas should be lowered and more signs posted for everyone's safety.

Guilty pleas on marijuana

Five persons pleaded guilty Tuesday before U. S. Judge William Beatty at Alton in connection with a major marijuana distribution ring which is said to have started in Alton in 1976 and spread to other states.

Special Prosecutor Gregory Bruce English contended that at least 30 plane loads of fine grade marijuana were shipped from Columbia in Central America to the U. S. Federal and state agents seized more than 45,000 pounds in Louisiana, Georgia and South Carolina. It was asserted.

Pleading guilty were Wilbur S. Smith, Meadowbrook, Ill., John Zerke, 33, Louisiana, Daniel Laswell, 27, Austin, Tex., Richard Larson, 31, Florida, and William Hampton, South Carolina.

Judge Beatty is reviewing a pre-sentence agreement by the U. S. attorney's staff and the defendants' attorneys.

Meanwhile, in a separate case, ten persons were charged Tuesday in what the U. S. Drug Enforcement Administration says was a big drug manufacturing and selling scheme in the Belleville area.

Illegal drugs with a retail value estimated at $5,100,000 allegedly were produced at various Belleville locations and sold to wholesalers in the St. Louis metropolitan area.

Conspiracy charges were filed against Alan Atwood, 24, Collinsville, Scott Callahan, 20, Fairview Heights, Kevin Sweeney, 26, O'Fallon, and from Belleville, Joseph Kennedy, 20, Phillip Biggerstaff, 24, Michael Biggerstaff, 26, Robert Ellington, 24, William Hoseney, 24, Melody Goodwin, 20, and Tami Johnson, 21.

By any other name, it's still a mighty strong drink

By GARRY N. MURPHY
SIUE Department of English

Having noted the Arabic origin of the word "alcohol," we might, just as we pause to consider the names of some of its popular potable forms.

"Whiskey" (for American and Irish types) or "whisky" (for Scotch and Canadian) is ultimately derived from Celtic and, indeed, is one of the few Celtic words surviving in English.

It meant "water"—as "vodka" does in Russian—and usually appeared with another Celtic word meaning "life."

Thus, "uisce beatha" or "uisge beatha" translates as "water of life."

Converted into Latin, the phrase becomes "aqua vitae," which converted into Scandinavian becomes "akavitt." Skool!

"Bourbon" is a purely American concoction, despite its French-sounding name. Bourbon has to have at least 51 percent corn mash, plus water with a suitable alkaline content. Bourbon County, Kentucky, had plentiful qualities of both.

"Gin" was brought back to England by soldiers stationed in the Netherlands in the 17th Century.

The Dutch word for "juniper," with which the drink is flavored, was "genever," now "jenever."

The English, mistakenly, connecting the drink with the Swiss city, first called it "geneva" and then shortened it to "gin."

Returning the favor, gin shortened the lives of thousands of lower-class workers in London during the first half of the 18th Century—so effectively, in fact, that a law had to be passed to restrict its sale.

Sgt. Thompson, honor graduate

Army Specialist 4 Dick Thompson, stationed at Fort Richardson, Alaska, was a distinguished graduate among a class of 100 taking the Basic Non-Commissioned Officers Course—Combat Arms in June.

He has since been promoted to the rank of sergeant, and will remain in Alaska until April.

Sgt. Thompson is the son of Elaine Thompson, 2545 Adams St., and the late Curtis Thompson.

A 1975 graduate of Granite City High School South, Sgt. Thompson enlisted in January 1979. He is married to the former Miss Shelly Allen of Anchorage, Alaska.

Pool covers dangerous, swimmers are warned

The Illinois Department of Public Health has issued a warning against swimming in pools partially covered with solar pool covers.

"Following reports from the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC), of several deaths connected to the use of pool covers, said William L. Kempiners, director of the state health department, 'consumers are advised never to swim in pools which are partially covered by the solar pool covers.' None of the deaths occurred in Illinois.

Kempiners described a solar pool cover as a buoyant, translucent plastic cover designed to be cut to fit the shape of an individual swimming pool. It is placed flat upon the surface of the pool water to heat the water through passive solar energy from the sun.

"Swimmers who swim

under part of a solar pool cover risk surfacing into the device and being unable to breathe," Kempiners said. "In attempting to find air, it is possible that swimmers might become disoriented and unintentionally swim further under the pool cover."

If consumers wish to provide additional information to CPSC on swimming pool solar covers and their potential danger, they may call the toll-free "Hotline" at 800-638-8326, he said.

SCA to restore levee

The Metro-East Sanitary District and the Millam-East Division of SCA have reached an agreement specifying that SCA pay $1,000 a month to restore and maintain the levee near Layton Road.

SCA previously agreed to pay a total of $100,000 for removing dirt from the levee for landfill cover. As part of settlement of a lawsuit filed by the sanitary district for removal of the levee, SCA has agreed to restore it to U.S. Corps of Engineers specifications, in addition to paying the $100,000 in damages to the district.

SCA also will be responsible for any damages or flooding that occurs as the result of the levee's removal. The agreement also gives SCA access rights to cross the levee, which is near the Millam-East Landfill.

Arrest 2 on dumping charge

Mike R. Allen, 27, of 2504 W. 23rd St., and Tony L. Holt, 20, of 2235 Bryan Ave., were arrested at 1:20 p.m. Thursday in the 2800 block of Marshall Avenue and charged with illegal dumping.

The charges related to an incident occurring the previous day when the pair allegedly unloaded broken concrete from a truck and left the debris in an old cemetery at Propes Avenue and Charles Street, and also at the rear of a dwelling in the 2800 block of Marshall Avenue.

Police first learned about the incident when a resident on Propes Street reported three men in a white pickup started to unload broken concrete near his garage and then left when they saw the property owner.

A resident in the 2800 block of Marshall told police he had paid three men with a white truck to haul trash and rock from his yard. Allen and Holt were released to appear at a later date and on condition they would return to the area where the concrete had been dumped and clean up the mess.

Scholarships in leader program

High school seniors from across the United States can compete this fall in the Century III Leaders program for over 200 college scholarships ranging from $500 to $10,000—more than $200,000 in all.

Interested students must apply by Oct. 15. Applications are available through local school principals' offices.

Sponsored by the National Association of Secondary School Principals, which represents more than 35,000 high school principals, the Century III Leaders program seeks to "stimulate creative thinking among these young people who will be solving the problems of tomorrow."

In the selection of school winners, students are initially judged on their leadership abilities, community involvement and awareness of current events. Competing at the state level, each school winner then prepares a brief presentation which outlines not only a particular need or challenge America is likely to face in the third century but also how that problem should be solved.

Each state awards two finalists $1,500 scholarships; two alternates are given $500 scholarships.

The 102 national finalists—two from each state and the District of Columbia—will attend trips to Colonial Williamsburg, Va., to attend the Century III Leaders conference, where they have the opportunity to meet with national leaders.

During this conference, one student is selected for the top award of a $10,000 scholarship while nine others get $500 each, in addition to the $1,500 won at the state level.

Picketing began Aug. 20.

Concurrently, Peabody has filed in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Missouri, a damage suit against the Seafarers' International Union based on the provision of the Labor-Management Relations Act allowing damages for violation of the secondary boycott prohibition.

Discourages free help for persons being taxed unfairly

From now on, residents of the Madison County special sewer service area who need help in correcting what they believe is a tax error will have to pay for that help, members of the county's special sewer committee indicated at that committee's last meeting.

Several persons whose homes will not receive sanitary sewer service, but who have been included in the taxing district for the sewers, attended the meeting to ask how they can have their homes removed from the district.

Edward Juneau, engineer of the sanitary sewer project, said anyone wishing the sewer committee's help in being removed from the district probably will have to pay a fee for that service.

His office prepared a list of homes known to be in that category (paying for sewers they will not receive), based on areas delineated by the sewer committee. Since that time, several names have been added to the list, at the committee's request.

He said letters to the county adding names to that list can be prepared, but only at this direction, that of the sewer committee. Juneau said that from now on, there will be a fee charged for preparing the letters. He did not say how much the fee would be.

The citizens being taxed for sewer service they will not receive also were told that if they wish their legal rights protected, they should hire their own attorney, rather than relying on the attorney for the sewer committee or on the state's attorney's office to remove them from the taxing district.

H. Carl Runge, attorney for the sewer committee, told those present that free legal advice is worth just what is paid for it. That includes the advice of the state's attorney's office, Runge commented.

He suggested that those whose homes are in the sewer district, but will not be served by the new sewers, join together in filing a class-action suit against the county, seeking to have their homes removed from the sewer district.

Among those present at the meeting was Joseph Garcia, president of the Miracle Manor area, who said he was promised that his area would receive sewer service. He said he learned it was not.

He said he would hard to get sewers into the area. He said he would hard to get sewers into the area. He said he would hard to get sewers into the area.

sewers for the Environmental Protection Agency to approve the use of grant funds to install new county sewers, Garcia said.

Juneau said that when the district was created, no homes were included that the sewer district did not intend to serve.

The exception is farm houses, which were included by a court decision, he said. Later, it was determined that some houses were so close to Granite City's sewers, that it would be impractical to install county sewers to serve them.

In other business, the committee informed those present that the inspection of the first section of the new sewers, starting at the Granite City Army Installation, was completed and only one faulty manhole cover was found and replaced.

The county board will be asked at its September meeting to accept ownership of the first section. Testing is continuing into the Bloodworth Addition and the Mitchell area west of St. Thomas Road.

The main 36-inch trunk line into the depot was the first section inspected and was approved by the Environmental Protection Agency, Juneau & Associates, engineers, S.M. Watson & Co., contractors, and by Sewer Superintendent Gene Futch.

Father and son face charges

Emil R. Schneidder Sr., 43, of 2215 E. 23rd St., was released on $35 cash bond at 9:10 p.m. Saturday on a disorderly conduct charge.

Emil R. Schneidder Jr., 22, was released at the same time on a $272 cash bond after being charged with three state charges.

The charges—aggravated battery, disorderly conduct and resisting a police officer, plus a city charge of consuming alcohol on a public street.

Police were dispatched at 8:30 p.m. Saturday to a fight and large crowd in the 3800 block of Kirkpatrick Homes.

The elder Schneidder allegedly refused to leave the area and after several warnings by police was arrested.

The crowd broke up, but Schneidder's son allegedly refused to leave the area. He was arrested, but refused to get into the squad car and began threatening officers at the scene, police said.

While being led to his cell, he allegedly broke loose and struck an officer's face. There were no indications what caused the original fight, officers said.

Burglary at Kirkpatrick

A burglary at the home of William Stack, 4707 Kirkpatrick Home, reported at 10:20 p.m. Thursday, netted the thieves a 12,000 BTU air conditioner valued at $250, a gold and porcelain wall clock worth $50, a clock-radio with two small speakers valued at $40, two wall lamps worth $25, two pictures worth $10 and two candleholders valued at $5.

It was speculated the intruders may have become scared and left suddenly as a portable television and two large speakers were standing next to a rear door.

Entry into the dwelling was gained by removing trim around a window on the rear door and reaching in inside to unlock it.

MOWER IS STOLEN

Al Lucash, 2409 E. 24th St., discovered that between 8 p.m. Thursday and at 1:30 p.m. Friday, a red and silver lawnmower, valued at $175, was taken from his back yard.

Top gift from GC Eagles

Granite City Eagles Aerie 1126 contributed the largest check donated by an Eagles aerie to the Art Ehrmann Cancer Fund at the 82nd annual international convention of the Fraternal Order of Eagles held in Salt Lake City, Utah, last month.

Robert Stanton, Aerie 1126 Cancer Fund chairman, representing the local chapter at the convention, presented the $1,200 contribution.

The funds represented proceeds from a public barbecue, held Aug. 1 at the Eagles Home, specifically to benefit the cancer fund, which aids by research, treatment and patient care.

At a joint breakfast for both aerie and auxiliary officers and chairmen, held here last week, Stanton described the presentation in Salt Lake City.

Police were dispatched at 8:30 p.m. Saturday to a fight and large crowd in the 3800 block of Kirkpatrick Homes.

The elder Schneidder allegedly refused to leave the area and after several warnings by police was arrested.

The crowd broke up, but Schneidder's son allegedly refused to leave the area. He was arrested, but refused to get into the squad car and began threatening officers at the scene, police said.

While being led to his cell, he allegedly broke loose and struck an officer's face. There were no indications what caused the original fight, officers said.

Burglary at Kirkpatrick

A burglary at the home of William Stack, 4707 Kirkpatrick Home, reported at 10:20 p.m. Thursday, netted the thieves a 12,000 BTU air conditioner valued at $250, a gold and porcelain wall clock worth $50, a clock-radio with two small speakers valued at $40, two wall lamps worth $25, two pictures worth $10 and two candleholders valued at $5.

It was speculated the intruders may have become scared and left suddenly as a portable television and two large speakers were standing next to a rear door.

Entry into the dwelling was gained by removing trim around a window on the rear door and reaching in inside to unlock it.

MOWER IS STOLEN

Al Lucash, 2409 E. 24th St., discovered that between 8 p.m. Thursday and at 1:30 p.m. Friday, a red and silver lawnmower, valued at $175, was taken from his back yard.

Richard Brown, Aerie 1126 president, and Stanton expressed appreciation to everyone who supported the benefit project.

Brown led a discussion on programs for the coming fall and winter season, including weekly entertainment on Saturday nights, with sandwiches and other refreshments available.

Fish fries, currently held on Friday nights, will continue, Brown said, with fish and other seafood being offered from 5:30 until 8 o'clock.

Beginning Sept. 14, Sunday dinners will be offered Eagle members and their guests at the Aerie Home, 2656 Madison Ave., from noon until 5 p.m.

Handicraft sessions are continuing for auxiliary members each Monday night from 7 to 9 and on Thursday afternoon from 1 until 3 in the Aerie Clubroom in preparation for a three-day yard sale, Sept. 11 through Sept. 13.

Brown reminded members the Aerie Home is now open daily from 10 a.m. for members.

The Eagles meet each Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the aerie and auxiliary meetings are held on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month, starting at 8 p.m., in the same location.

Other activities planned for the fall months, include: The annual "Kick-Off Dinner," scheduled Thursday, Oct. 30, at 6 p.m., under the chairmanship of Chris VonNida. Proceeds will provide Christmas baskets for senior citizens in need, who live in the Granite City area.

The club voted to make a donation to the Grady White fund. The Grady White family, of 1382 Norwood Drive, suffered a tragedy in Wyoming recently.

Loans offered for crop damage

Madison County is among 79 Illinois counties which have been declared emergency loan areas to provide assistance to farmers with damaged crops due to extreme heat and drought conditions from July 3 through August 18. Governor James R. Thompson said Thursday.

The 79 counties, designated by the Farmers Home Administration, are primarily located south of Interstate 80. St. Clair County also is included.

The counties were declared drought disaster areas by Illinois FHA Director Jon W. Linfield following a request by Illinois Director of Agriculture John Block, who conducted an inspection of statewide crop conditions. The governor received notification of the declaration Thursday.

Applications are being accepted by the 45 FHA offices serving the 79 counties. Farm operators have until May 26, 1981 to apply.

Farmers who are unable to obtain credit elsewhere may apply for a FHA loan to cover actual losses up to $500,000 at the annual percentage rate of five percent. Those who are able to obtain loans commercially may still qualify for a FHA loan, but at higher rate of interest.

Thomas Hildebrand selected as judge

Thomas E. Hildebrand of Granite City will be sworn in as an associate judge of the Third Judicial Circuit in Madison and Bond counties during ceremonies Monday, Sept. 8, in the Madison County courthouse.

Hildebrand was announced last week as the winner of a runoff election for associate judgeship which was vacated when the Illinois Supreme Court elevated A.A. Mateosian of Granite City to a vacant circuit judgeship.

The runoff election between Hildebrand and Dennis Brandt, who also practices law in Granite City, was necessitated when none of the candidates in a four-way election for the post received a majority of the votes. The administrative office of the Illinois courts then ordered the runoff election between Hildebrand and Brandt, the two top vote-getters in the first election.

The runoff ballots were opened by Court Administrator Roy Gilley in Springfield Wednesday and Chief Justice Horace Calvo of Granite City then was notified of the results.

Hildebrand, 29, will assume Judge Mateosian's former assignments in the Granite City and Collinsville.

He practices with Attorney William E. Brandt, who is not related to Dennis Brandt. Hildebrand is a 1973 graduate of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and a 1976 graduate of the University of Illinois School of Law.

Housing survey underway

About 1,325 housing units in the St. Louis metropolitan area will be visited this month by Bureau of the Census interviewers as part of the annual housing survey, according to Marvin Postma, acting director of the Bureau's Regional Office in Kansas City.

Approximately the same number of units will be canvassed each month through March, 1981. When the survey is completed, interviewers will have visited about 15,800 housing units.

The area is one of the 15 Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas (SMSAs) in this year's survey. It was last surveyed in 1976-77.

The Census Bureau and the Department of Housing and Urban Development jointly planned the survey in response to a need for frequent and up-to-date data on housing, one of the indicators of the nation's economic condition.

The agencies will issue joint reports about 16 months after the interviews have been completed, showing data for the total SMSA, central city and the remainder of the SMSA.

All information obtained by the Census Bureau is confidential by law and can be used only to compile statistical totals in which no person, household or housing unit is identified.

Interviewers are local residents. Each carries an official identification card with the bearer's photograph and signature.

More lake water for state

Governor James R. Thompson last week signed a bill which will make Lake Michigan drinking water available to an added 1,500,000 people in the Chicago metropolitan area. The legislation also authorizes the State Department of Transportation to grant a permit for construction of a marina adjacent to Chicago's Navy Pier, clearing the way for the project to move ahead.

"This legislation will allow us to make expanded use of Lake Michigan water under a U.S. Supreme Court decree, an action which will help stop the depletion of the deep limestone aquifer which underlies much of northeastern Illinois and southern Wisconsin," Thompson said. The law is the outgrowth of a settlement among Great Lakes states on the amount of water Illinois may divert from the lake.

In 1967, the Supreme Court limited the amount of water Illinois could take from Lake Michigan to 3,200 cubic feet per second, or 100 million gallons a day. Since then, water has been allocated to communities, water districts and industries in the six-county northeastern Illinois area by the Illinois Department of Transportation. In August 1978, Illinois petitioned to change the method used to measure the amount of water from Lake Michigan, to make more water available for domestic drinking purposes. Following nearly two years of hearings, testimony and negotiations, a settlement was reached last month. Approval of the settlement is anticipated by the Supreme Court when it reconvenes in October.

Steelers 'watch three quarters' in 1-1 tie

Press-Record

Sports

GRANITE CITY (III.) PRESS-RECORD, Tuesday, September 2, 1980—11

Special to the Press-Record
QUINCY — According to Granite City North soccer coach Bob Kehoe, there was a good game here Saturday night. Just too bad his team watched three of the quarters instead of playing.

"There were four quarters. We played one and watched the other three," said Kehoe. "And we watched the two five minute overtime periods, too."

The overtimes netted no goals and the Steelers and Quincy High played to a 1-1 tie on a wet, rainy field.

Actually, the tie against a bigger, stronger and more experienced Quincy team looks like a plus on North's ledger. But Kehoe wasn't pleased.

"We've got a lot of work to do," said Kehoe. "I'm far from pleased."

There was something to smile about. Several things. Like the play of Eric Maass. The senior forward gave the Steelers a 1-0 lead 13 minutes into the game. It was a picture-perfect goal.

Taking a centering pass from the right sideline, Steeler Brian Levin took the ball from his right, turned toward his left and found Maass with a square pass, all in the same motion.

Maass wasted no time. He boomed the ball into the upper right corner of the net from about 22 yards out.

"It was an excellent goal, actually," said Kehoe.

The game was North's first of the season, a season which Kehoe thinks will be one of rebuilding. After losing most of the talented lineup from last season's number-one ranked (Press-Record area)

Steelers squad, Kehoe's lineup is dotted with a number of players with limited or no varsity experience. You can't tell 'em without a scorecard.

Despite all the disadvantages, the Steelers showed that even a team that is rebuilding by Granite City standards is equal to if not better than teams from the rest of the state. Even though North didn't mount much of an attack after Maass's goal, Quincy's Blue Devils didn't score until there were only four minutes left in the game. And even that goal was tainted.

A Quincy forward took a shot at North goalie Rob Chapman that Chapman most likely would have caught. But the ball, scooting on the wet grass, deflected off North player Vince Sigite's foot and went into the opposite corner of the goal.

"Chapman had the ball played," said Kehoe.

"But there wasn't anything he could do about that deflection."

Chapman, a senior, first start in goal ever for the Steelers. "I was happy with the way he played," said Kehoe. "He made several good saves. And that's even more impressive when you consider how wet the field was."

At one point, Chapman made two critical saves from close range. He fisted a Blue Devils shot back onto the foot of another Quincy player who again boomed it in direction. Chapman again made the save.

All wasn't bleak from Kehoe's outlook. "Maass and Robert Seales looked good," he said. "And I thought Steve Trittschuh and Paul Barrington

Pierce, UConnns wait for SIU-E

STORRS, Conn. — Connecticut opens its soccer season facing national champion Southern Illinois at Edwardsville at home Wednesday afternoon at 4.

Coach Joe Morrone, beginning his 12th season at UConn, has been working hard with 27 candidates for the team which will feature returning players in practically all positions.

Listed on the roster is a player from Granite City South. Tony Pierce, a freshman goalie candidate, is a graduate of Granite City High School South where he played soccer last season after transferring from Granite City North. He was selected to the all-state soccer team and named an all-American by Parade Magazine. Tony also played baseball for three years. He plans to study chemistry at the University.

SIUE Coach Bob Guelker, in the Cougars' opener, must come up with replacements for not only three graduated senior starters — Jeff Cacciatori, Dave Hundert and Dave Hummert — but also for a trio of all-Americans — Don Ebert, Tim Clark and Bob Bozada. All three would have been eligible to play this, their senior year, if they hadn't turned professional after turning the Cougars to the title.

These men scored 37 of the team's 58 goals last year. However SIUE remains strong with veterans at the wing. Senior Matt Malloy scored all three goals as the Cougars edged Clemson 3-2, in the NCAA championship game to boost his season total to 11. He teams with sophomore Steve Schell who was labeled "ready" to fill in for Cacciatori at the other wing.

Three more seniors — the coach's son Tim, Joe Howe and Terry Trushel — provide Coach Guelker a hard-as-nails defense and midfield capability.

Goalie Jim Renehan returns after posting eight shutouts and allowing only 20 goals in 21 games. He is being pressed for starting honors by Pierce.

Zantigo wins tourney title

GRANITE CITY — Zantigo of Granite City won the annual Granite City Park District Labor Day Softball Tournament here Sunday night with an exciting 11-9 victory over the Quad City Businessmen in the championship game.

The title tilt capped off a long, rugged tournament. Quad City Businessmen, which came out of the loser's bracket into the championship game, had to play eight games to reach it after it dropped its first game.

The winning pitcher in the championship game for Zantigo was Tom Manogian. Quad City's Mike Deluch pounded two homers and teammate Jeff Cox hit one in the losing effort.

Potter wins Late Model championship at speedway

By JEFF EAVES

GRANITE CITY — The late model championship was at stake Saturday night at the Tri-City Speedway between point leader Gary Potter of St. Charles, Mo., and Kevin Gundaker of St. Louis. Mo. Potter came away the winner.

Going into the final night of racing for the points Potter only had a 200 point lead over Gundaker with 2445 points.

During the warmup laps Potter had handling trouble in his suspension and when he finished in his heat nor the trophy dash while Gundaker finished second in his heat and won the trophy dash.

When the 30-lap feature began Potter only had a 20 point lead over Gundaker with a 2465 to 2445 points.

Potter started on the pole and Gundaker beside him in the feature event and on the first lap Rob Jones of Creve Coeur, Mo., went head on into the first turn light pole so the red flag came out.

Jones Camaro No. 71 was completely demolished in the accident but Rob walked out of the car unhurt.

On the restart Potter took the lead from Gundaker and led until lap 10 when he hit the third turn guardrail and was forced out of the race. At that point Gundaker reclaimed the lead until he hit the fourth turn guardrail on lap 11. In order for Gary Potter to win the point championship he had to stay in front of Gundaker. If Gundaker had won the feature and Potter finished second there would be a tie.

Mike Wallace of Arnold, Mo., was running third at the time in a fierce battle with Len Giltmeier of St. Charles, Mo., took the lead on the restart. Coming down the front straightaway to receive the green flag Wallace's Camaro blew the engine.

Len Giltmeier became the fourth different race leader at the time and lead

Eastern gears for '80 season

CHARLESTON — The defensive front four at Eastern Illinois University is probably second to none in Division II, at least in the eyes of opposing coaches.

Individual credentials support this. The right end is Pete Catan (Penfield, N.Y.), 6-3, 250 senior, a First Team Associated Press All-American, the Mid-Continent Conference Defensive "Player of the Year" and sure pro draft choice.

The right tackle is two year starter Charlie Krutinger (Flora), a 6-4, 260 senior, who is the largest lineman.

The left tackle is Randy Melvin (Aurora-West), a 5-11, 250 senior, who is a three year starter, and Associated Press Honorable Mention All-American and First Team All-Conference lineman.

The right end is the only rookie starter on the unit. Keith Wojnowski (St. Anne, Kan.), a 6-3, 230 sophomore.

That's the way new defensive coordinator Chuck Dickerson says they live up after the first week of two-a-day practices.

Dickerson, a former assistant coach and player in the Canadian Football League, claims his job is easy. "Feelink (previous defensive line coach) did a great job in schooling these people in fundamentals.

"So with the maturity and experience this bunch has I think we have the ability to do some things that had been considered experimental by other people."

Also, since this group will be a marked unit by the position a few new "wrinkles" may be needed to counteract opposing game plans.

Still Dickerson's basic philosophy for front four "play is 'aggressiveness' ... the purpose is to attempt to intimidate ... ball carriers, passers and offensive linemen."

He has the people who can do it. Catan had 21 QB sacks last year, 14 more tackles for loss, intercepted two passes, recovered two fumbles and forced seven others earning public praise from nearly every opposing coach.

He recently was cited by Street & Smith's football preview magazine as a preseason Honorable Mention All-American, the only Division II player so named. Professional scouts have already expressed considerable public interest where usually they are mum concerning NCAA II players.

"Catan's greatest attribute is his intensity ... that tremendous desire to excel. His personality traits will make him a great player," Dickerson said.

The long season finally comes to a close

GRANITE CITY — It's finally over. The long softball season in Granite City.

The annual Granite City Park District Labor Softball Tournament finally wound down here Sunday night with the championship game between Zantigo and the Quad City Businessmen at Worthen Park.

Zantigo came out on top 11-9.

It's been an exciting season. Oh sure, you say. Beer League softball. Big deal. But for the ones who play it, it's as serious as a Major League Baseball game. There may not be any money at stake (at least not on the surface), but they play as if there is.

A long summer of sore muscles, aching backs, cuts and bruises. For a non-contact sport, softball sure is dangerous.

A long summer of camaraderie. Team spirit.

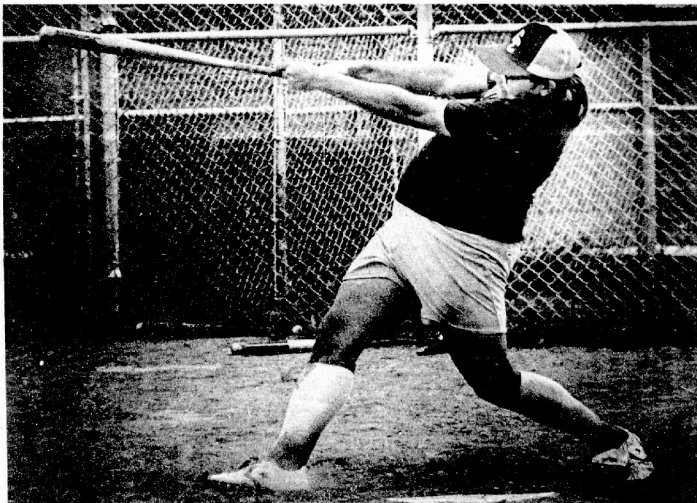

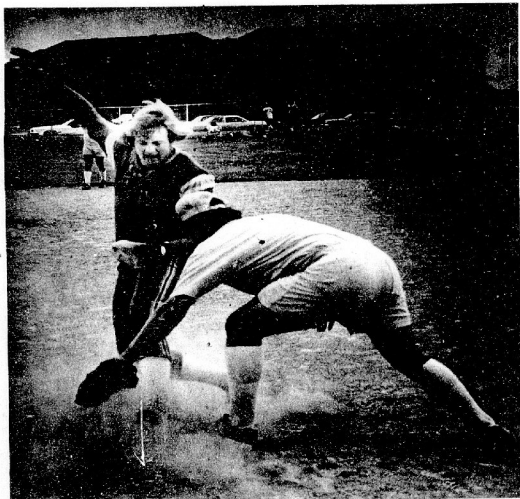

Having fun.

Going out after the game to the favorite local pub to wash down the dust.

Cheering on teammates' homerun or an opponent's misue.

There are hundreds of players in the Granite City Park District. And additional ones in Madison. It's a summer tradition. And the participants take it very, very seriously.

U.S. site picked for key World Cup prelim contest

NEW YORK — The United States Soccer Federation announced today that Lockhart Stadium in Ft. Lauderdale has been chosen as the site for the Oct. 25 World Cup preliminary qualification match between the National Teams of Canada and the United States.

The Canada-United States clash, the first of two games to be played in the U.S. during the Northern Zone preliminaries for the 1982 World Cup in Spain, will be hosted by the United States Soccer Federation and the City of Ft. Lauderdale. The announcement was made at a press conference today in Ft. Lauderdale.

"We of the Federation are extremely pleased that our National Team will play such an important match in Ft. Lauderdale," said Mr. Gene Edwards, the president of the USSF. "The game of soccer has experienced tremendous growth in Florida, especially in the Broward County area. That the State Youth and Senior associations are so well organized in Florida and that Ft. Lauderdale has a successful professional club (NASL's Strikers) makes for an ideal market to stage such a game."

In further explaining why Ft. Lauderdale and Lockhart Stadium, a 19,700-seat natural grass facility used as the home field by the Strikers, was selected from among several sites that had expressed interest in staging the game, Mr. Edwards said, "Lockhart Stadium is one of the outstanding facilities in the U.S. The playing field and its dimensions are perfect, and the size of the stadium itself lends itself to the attendance that is anticipated."

In addition to the Oct. 25

(7:30 p.m.) match with Canada, the U.S. will also host Mexico Nov. 21 at a site to be announced in the near future. The home-and-home series with the U.S. and our neighbors to the North and South will include a Nov. 1 confrontation against the American nationals will face Mexico No. Nine in Mexico City.

Two of the three nations from Mexico, Canada, and the U.S. will advance from the Northern Zone and compete in the six-nation CONCACAF tournament in Costa Rica with two teams each from the Central American Zone and two from the Caribbean. Two teams will emerge from the CONCACAF tourney and represent North America and the Caribbean at the 24-nation 1982 World Cup in Spain.

The match in Ft. Lauderdale will mark the second important contest played there by a U.S. national team in less than a year. The Bermuda-United States Olympic qualifying match, a 5-0 victory for the American amateurs, was played last December at Lockhart.

"The World Cup game is a major step in our goal of making Ft. Lauderdale a center for soccer in the United States," said Mr. Dick Buerkle, Ft. Lauderdale's director of parks and recreation. "We feel Ft. Lauderdale and Lockhart is an ideal location to stage a World Cup preliminary, and are pleased to be involved in such an important event."

Lockhart Stadium will also be the site of the 1980 Senior Bowl, the annual All Star game pitting the nation's outstanding collegiate seniors from the East versus the best from the West. The Senior Bowl will take place Dec. 13.

Chicago comes to MISL...

ST. LOUIS — The Major Indoor Soccer League completed its expansion for the 1980-81 season by announcing the addition of the Chicago Horizons to the league. The league's president, Earl Foreman, MISL commissioner, welcomed the Horizons' owners, Bob Schermer and Ron Jaffe, into the MISL at a noon press conference today.

The press conference was held at the new 15,000-seat Rosemont Horizon arena which will house the Horizons for their 20-game home schedule. Terry O'Brien will act as the club's president and Jim Walker will serve as general manager. Chicago will be part of the Central Division in the MISL's new three-division alignment.

When awarding the franchise Foreman said, "The MISL certainly welcomes the opportunity to showcase the exciting sport of indoor soccer in the Chicago area. The Horizons are America's third largest market and the area MISL has coveted since its inception but the league has waited for the proper combination of ownership, arena and timing."

"The time has come," continued Foreman. "Bob and Ron have seen to it that people in this great sports area will enjoy MISL soccer just like the million and a half other people who saw us across the country last year."

Schermer, a one-time New York Giants' farmhand, has numerous business interests. He began his entrepreneurship in the graphics arts equipment business where he had joint ventures with Jaffe. Schermer also has a 17-house racing stable.

The MISL will continue its growth pattern with the opening of its third season, Nov. 7. The expanded 1980-81 schedule calls for all teams to play 40 regular season games (up from 32) followed by the playoffs in late March.

The expansion Horizons will be competing in the same division as the St. Louis Steamers, and Tracey Leiveke, Schermer's general manager, was enthusiastic about the league's newest addition. "The granting of an MISL charter in Chicago is a tremendous step for the league. It places us in a very large and highly visible market and expands the leagues participation in the middle of the country."

"Chicago's proximity to St. Louis will foster the kind of intense inter-city rivalry that St. Louisans have seen between the Cardinals and the Chicago Cubs. That type of competition always adds excitement to the game. I am confident that our six games with Chicago, three of which will be in St. Louis, will be well attended."

Leiveke noted that the Steamers would open their home season on Nov. 20 against the Baltimore Blast. The Leiveke challenge between Leiveke and his brother Tim, who is the Blast's general manager, will be settled on that opening night.

...as Pittsburgh leaves

PITTSBURGH — The Board of Directors of the Major Indoor Soccer League has granted the Pittsburgh Spirit a year's leave of absence from fielding a team for the upcoming 1980-81 season, MISL commissioner Earl Foreman announced today.

"Due to extraordinary circumstances in Pittsburgh the directors have voted positively on Pittsburgh owner Frank Fuhrer's request for a one year moratorium in play," stated Foreman. "The league was very sympathetic to Mr. Fuhrer, who has a strong desire to remain a bona fide member of this league. He has posted a substantial performance bond for the 1980-81 season."

"The Pittsburgh Spirit will retain all rights and privileges as a full member, however, they will not participate in play during the coming season," explained Foreman. "At this time Mr. Fuhrer did not feel the club was capable of performing at the level of efficiency he expected of his franchise."

The Spirit have decided not to participate in the Oct.

27 college player draft. The recently announced expansion Chicago Horizons will replace Pittsburgh in the Central Division.

Pittsburgh was one of the original six MISL clubs and finished their inaugural MISL season in fifth place with a 6-18 record. They began that season with an MISL record 9-game losing streak. Last year the Spirit were eliminated in the semifinals by the champion New York Arrows after gaining entrance to the playoffs with a 14-12 record that was boosted by a record-breaking 13-game win streak.

the rest of the way to win his first feature of the year.

So what happened to Potter and Kevin Gundaker?

On lap 15 Potter pulled back into the race four laps down and ahead of Gundaker.

They were still in the pits. On lap 17, Gundaker came into the race but couldn't keep up to Potter and eventually Gundaker blew the engine in his Camaro on lap 20. Gary Potter is the new 1980 late model champion and defeating Gundaker by more than 50 points. Potter with 2505 points and Gundaker with 2455 points.

Following Gittermeier at the finish were C. Corbin of E. Alton, Ill., Mike Barbeau of O'Fallon, Mo., Mike Cooney of Centralia, Ill., Roger Reed of Valley View, Mo., and Ron Fisher of Centralia, Ill.

Mike Dyche of Jacksonville, Ill., won the fifth heat.

Over Roger Reed, Ivan Long of Pittsfield, Ill., and John Sloman of Springfield, Ill. Rob Jones won the second heat over Kevin Gundaker, Len Gittermeier and Mike Cooney.

Kevin Gundaker won the trophy dash over Mike Barbeau, Mike Wallace and C.C. Corbin.

In the sportsman division, 1980 track champion Tom Smith of Honeywell, Mo., looked like he was going to win his 10th feature of the year but on lap 10 he and Mike Marshall of Creve Coeur, Mo., tangled in turn two and this enabled "Wee Willie" Rod Bailey of Granite City to win his first sportsman feature of the year.

Bailey driving the Jack's Camaro No. 11 was in the third position at the time of the mishap and held off strong challenger of Tom Smith who wound up second and Doyle McKeen of Centralia, Ill.

Doyle McKeen won the first heat over Tom Smith, Mike (M.T.) Yates of Edwardsville, Ill., and Cecil Lyons of Virginia, Ill. Mike Marshall won the second heat over "Wee Willie" Rod Bailey of Granite City.

Lanter returning to play for McKendree

LEBANON — Steve Lanter's college basketball career isn't over yet.

Lanter, a top guard from Mascoutah who starred for the University of Illinois his freshman and sophomore years, left the team in the middle of the 1978-79 season because of a severe injury, later sitting out last season and thinking he'd probably never play on a collegiate level again, he announced last week that he will be returning for the 1980-81 season to play for the McKendree College Bears.

Lanter has two years eligibility remaining, but will only play for one season at McKendree because the following year would be his fifth in school.

Lanter was one of the top guard prospects ever to play at Illinois. He played in more games — 25 — than any other freshman his first year. His sophomore year, with Lanter at a starting guard spot, the Fighting Illini won 17 of their first 17 games and rose as high as second in the national rankings. After his injury, the Illini won only three of their last 13 games and plummeted from the rankings.

McKendree coach Harry Statham said that Lanter is coming on his own. "He was playing in a summer league with some of the guys from our league," he said. "He felt he wanted to give it another shot. So he called and asked me if it would be OK."

Lanter was a high school All-Star and All-American at Mascoutah. He averaged 23 points per game his senior year and scored 43 points in his final prep game.

"Steve helped us win a lot of ball games," said Illinois head coach Lou Henson. "If that injury hadn't happened in the first place, I think Steve would have been one of the top guards to ever play at Illinois."

Simple reason for enrollment drop — fewer children

The tendency of some communities, probably including the Quad-Cities, is to be somewhat depressed by census and enrollment trends which imply that one's area is failing to attract the same population base as before.

But while it would be comforting to see a relatively stable base, nearly every American population center is encountering shrinkage. This is not so much because of any erosion in a community's attractiveness, but simply the fact that many families decided to have fewer children, or no children.

How long has it been going on? Quite a while. Nationally, the turnaround from ever-expanding school enrollments began to make itself felt in 1970, when the combined enrollment of the lower grades—kindergarten through the eighth grade—showed its first decrease, from 23,597,000 in 1969 to 23,577,000. Since then, total public school enrollment has dropped by almost four million children.

The cause is a significant decline in the number of births. The birthrate per 1,000 persons decreased from 25 in 1955 to 14.8 in 1975.

Enrollment is still declining here and nationwide. There were 800,000 fewer pupils in U.S. public schools in the 1979-80 school year, compared to 1978-79, and a further reduction is being tallied as schools open this fall.

The pattern unavoidably has had a pronounced effect on school systems. A typical district in the U.S. loses more than $1,000 in state and federal aid for each pupil dropped from the rolls.

The decline usually is gradual, making it difficult to close buildings or hire fewer teachers for several years. The factor, along with inflation, leads to costs continuing to climb even as the enrollment decreases.

When it becomes possible to close schools, this can cause trauma, as the Granite City district found out a year ago when the Washington, McKinley and Stallings elementary schools were shut down. Fortunately, productive uses are being found for those buildings.

When will the pattern reverse itself? Some say it may not happen until late in this decade, but the federal government is estimating cautiously that enrollment may begin to rise slowly starting in 1984, even as colleges are experiencing a major decline in students. As evidence, statisticians cite a slight increase in the birthrate in 1978.

Two elements are expected to determine whether the school enrollment total will continue rising beyond 1984. The first is the number of women who were part of the post-World War II "baby boom" who decide to have children before 1983, when most of them will be past their child-bearing prime.

The second is the number of children born during the next decade who are to attend public school. There has been a recent increase in the number of private schools, such as the Metro-East Lutheran High School that is preparing to move into its present site. Students are likely to continue, particularly if California and other states adopt a plan to allow parents to select the school their child will attend.

Another factor of importance to each district is whether there will be a sharp movement of the population, accelerating trends that have seen some drift of families from older cities and suburbs to rural areas.

A few authorities believe rising auto fuel costs will curtail this, encouraging more people to seek to live close to where they work. Unless there is a reversal, however, many older school districts could continue to lose enrollment regardless of any sustained increase in the birthrate.

Prison term for role in drug ring

A two-year prison term was ordered Thursday in the Alton federal court against William Wade Hampton, 54, of South Carolina. Presiding was U.S. District Judge William Beatty.

Hampton and four other defendants had been found guilty last week of racketeering conspiracy related to a marijuana distribution ring. He is charged with death threats since drawing from the drug conspiracy.

The sentence will run concurrently with a prison term he is serving in connection with another charge.

The case is alleged to involve a St. Louis-based drug smuggling ring known as "the company" and is reputed to have been one of the largest drug operations in the nation. Major shipments to the U.S. from Colombia were noted during the late 1970s, with many abandoned warehouses and air landing strips utilized in shipping lots of marijuana for illegal consumption.

Others entering guilty pleas were Wilbur Smith, 42, of Meadowbrook, Ill., John Lee, 23, of Louisiana, Daniel Lee Lawell, 27, of Texas and Richard W. Larson, 34, of Florida.

Changes against additional persons are anticipated.

Seek information in death of girl, 13

Investigators are attempting to put together a complete picture of how 13-year-old Kimberly Anderson of Florissant, Mo., spent her final hours before being shot and killed on the shoulder of Interstate 70 one mile east of Route 203 last week.

Her body was found just south of the Quad-City area about 6 a.m. Thursday by a hitchhiker. It was just off the pavement on the eastbound lanes of Interstate 70, investigators said.

The diary she carried showed that she was very naive about life and had been thinking about running away from home for some time, investigators said.

She was fully clothed when found. Authorities would not say if there were signs she had been molested.

Her father said he argued with her about going to school and thought he had convinced her to attend school Wednesday.

It is uncertain when she left the school. Attendance records show her as absent, but her fellow students told investigators that she was in school and stayed until 9:45 a.m., at the latest.

A Bridgeton, Mo., woman said she gave a girl matching Miss Anderson's description a ride from near the Junior Boulevard and State 270, where the girl got out of the car and boarded a Bi-State bus about 10:45 a.m. Wednesday.

A neighbor of the Andersons reported she saw Kimberly at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday, walking at Woodson and Natural Bridge roads, authorities said.

Her whereabouts after that time are not known.

St. Clair County Coroner James Radden estimated that Miss Anderson had been dead only a few hours when her body was found.

Miss Anderson had shoulder-length brown hair, was wearing a maroon blouse and blue jeans and carrying school books and a small bag of personal items. She was 5 feet, 7 inches tall and weighed about 125 pounds. Anyone who saw a young woman matching that description Wednesday night or early Thursday morning is being asked to contact the FBI.

Neighbors of the Andersons have started the Kimberly Anderson Trust Fund at the Florissant Bank, 3001 Franklin, Mo., 63031, to help offset burial costs.

News notes

Madison County Supervisor James Barton has withdrawn instructions that township assessors increase all farmland valuations by eight percent. Such assessments will remain about the same as in the past except where there is a change in land use, he said.

A new state law limits farmland assessments to an aggregate increase of one percent per year; it seeks to moderate the impact of a new assessment formula. Barton said there is substantial conformity between current assessments in this county and those required under new regulations.

Despite a record 4.6 percent rise in the government's July 1980 index of leading economic indicators, many economists expect business activity to continue to grow, and unemployment to continue rising during the fall as firms work out of existing product inventories.

The state is directly regulating the professional activities of more than 750,000 people, a study by Illinois Comptroller Roland Barris showed Friday. He said the study, which is the first of its kind, found that the state has stepped up business depreciation because he sees it as an ineffective way to boost employment rapidly.

The Central Services and Buildings committees of the Madison County Board agreed Friday to study the amount and types of paint the county will need over a six-month period and then seek competitive bids. Board Member Dan Partney urged bidding, saying paint costing $10,000 to $12,000 annually has been obtained from one firm, that markups may amount to 40 to 50 percent, and that a consumer of paint praises Benjamin Moore paint. Rich Walker, county painting supervisor, has described the purchases from Lombardi's of Granite City as providing the best paint for the best price; Robert Lombardi says the price of $16.95 per gallon of Vaux paint compares with prices of $18 to $19 for similar brands.

Madison County government leaders failed to reach a consensus Thursday on whether to set up a county district to regulate public transportation. It was noted that the public is hesitant to pay higher taxes than the improvement in service would be desirable. Existing service is to be cut drastically unless the county begins collecting tolls.

A week-long strike by Collinsville public school teachers ended Friday when Associate Judge Edward C. Ferguson successfully mediated the bargaining talks. Picketing teachers voted at 5:30 p.m. to accept a two-year agreement increasing pay and related benefits by 11 percent each year.

A statistical adjustment to be made by the U.S. Census Bureau in October may add up to 9,300 people to the St. Louis area, according to a count of 242,226 announced this summer. The population in 1970 was 250,911. Madison County Board Administrator May Kane said she expects the county tally

State Farm to lower rates on auto insurance

State Farm Mutual announced Friday it will be possible to reduce rates because of a drop in the number of claims per 1,000 insured vehicles (known as claim frequency) in recent months. In the first quarter of 1980, bodily injury liability claim frequency was 14 percent lower than in the first quarter of 1979.

Property damage liability claim frequency was down 18 percent; collision, comprehensive, and other coverages were down 2 percent.

The company said inflation is still causing claims costs to go up. However, the drop in claim frequencies is offsetting part of the effect of inflation—at least, for the moment.

Premiums will be reduced in all parts of Illinois and for all classifications of drivers who operate passenger and utility vehicles. However, since the 2.2 percent decrease is the average for all coverages combined, the reduction may differ slightly for customers who don't carry a full package of coverages.

ADMITTED AFTER CRASH Carol L. Morris, 21, of Concord Court, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 5:17 a.m. Saturday suffering multiple injuries to her right arm and right knee. She said she was driving north on Adams Street, lost control of her car and knocked down a utility pole at 2208 Adams Street at 1:40 a.m. She notified police of the accident by telephone at 4:44 a.m. According to a hitchhiker who was a passenger, two male passengers and the driver fled the scene at the time of the accident.

Lavonda J. Burcham, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Burcham Sr. of New Douglas, Ill., formerly of Granite City, has received her diploma of fashion merchandising from Patricia Stevens College in St. Louis.

She was on the president's list and received her degree Aug. 23 at the college.

Miss Burcham attended Granite City schools and graduated from Livingston High School in Livingston, Ill.

She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Buckingham, 2810 Denver St., and the niece of Mrs. Don Jones, also of Granite City.

Slash tires on vehicles

Vandals slashed tires on three vehicles parked in the 2500 block of Benton Street and one in the 2300 block of East 24th Street, it was reported Thursday.

Reporting damage to tires were Walter Finke, 2555 Benton St., Keith Watson, 2253 Benton St., who had tires cut on a pickup truck and an auto; and Pat Hoffman, 2314 E. 24th St.

He joined the Army in 1968, was assigned as an inspector in Texas, Oklahoma and Georgia, and as a non-commissioned officer in charge and regional commander for veterinary activity at Fort Gordon, Ga., before becoming an Army Recruiter.

Staff Sgt. Schroeder lives in St. Louis with his wife, Judith, and their three children. His hobbies include tennis, golf, bowling, hunting and fishing.

THREE BICYCLES STOLEN

James Smith, 2730 Buxton Ave., reported to police at 1:55 p.m. Friday that a girl's bicycle, valued at $85 was stolen. Carl Turner, 2205 Buxton Ave., reported that his 20 inch blue boy's 10-speed bicycle, which had a name and no fenders was stolen about 8 p.m. Friday from the corner of 23rd Street and Madison Ave. Durren Bosch, 2132 State St., reported to police that his bicycle was stolen while he was visiting a friend at Kirkpatrick Homes. The value of the bicycle was valued at $60.

Justified action to speed study of a second new lock

Quad-Cities commend the U.S. House Public Works Committee for its decision of Aug. 27, directing the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to begin immediately a study on the need for a second lock at Lock and Dam 26 near Alton.

To replace the deteriorating present facilities, a new lock and dam are being built two miles downstream. The question is whether to include a second lock; if there is a timely authorization while the other work is proceeding, major savings can be achieved.

Congressmen have accused the Upper Mississippi River Basin Commission of dragging its feet on a $12 million comprehensive master plan for improvement of the upper section of the river. The study was requested by Congress in 1978 and is due in 1982.

As part of the master plan, Congress earmarked $2,500,000 for a second lock environmental and feasibility study, but so far only $400,000 of this has been allocated to the Engineer Corps to do the work.

Cong. Robert A. Young, St. Louis County Democrat, was among those losing patience with the recreation-oriented commission after it asked for a 15-month extension on the study. He said a second new lock is essential to relieve barge congestion and to meet the ever-increasing standards for grain shipment capacity on the river.

Upper Mississippi River Basin Commission Chairman Neil Haugerud concedes that the study is lagging such as huge natural resource as the "mighty Mississippi" is mighty difficult and complex.

While he would prefer to see planning proceed without Congressional prodding, it seems clear that the Minnesota-based commission does not view the river transportation bottleneck here with the urgency that is deserved.

The House committee action is warranted and should be swiftly implemented.

Vast power for energy bureau

To the Editor:

Rep. Melvin Price (D-Ill., 23rd) voted July 30 not to allow full House consideration of President Carter's standby gasoline rationing program, thereby ratifying the plan that has been criticized as being too costly, too complicated, and requiring too much time to put into effect.

Under the law, the program had been designed to automatically go into effect unless disproved by the House and Senate within 30 days of it being ordered.

Following Senate acceptance of the plan, the House voted 209 to 205 not to bring the measure into effect, allowing it to go into effect without change.

Supporters of the plan argued that it should be accepted because it would be best that could be devised. Opponents, however, were concerned over basic shortcomings of the plan that would essentially be a system where consumers issued for each registered automobile, up to three cars per family.

Critics of the plan include:

Cost: Implementation cost estimates have ranged as high as $2 billion, while the Department of Energy (DOE) estimates a "pre-implementation" cost of $103 million, maintenance costs ranging from $25 to $30 million, and operating costs of nearly $2 billion per year.

Discrimination: The system has been accused of penalizing low-income persons for only having one car, while favoring those who can afford more than

Volunteers care about other people

To the Editor:

Thirty-seven million Americans did volunteer work in the past year, according to a study by the U.S. Census Bureau.

Volunteers are like yachts. No matter where they are, they arouse your curiosity. Who are they? Where do they come from? Why are they here?

They could stay moored like a yacht, where it is safe, and still justify their being, but they choose to cut through the rough waters, ride out storms and take chances.

They have style; they're fiercely independent. If you have to ask how much their part worth talking about.

They are the only human beings on the face of this earth who reflect this selfishness, caring, patience, need and just plain love for one another.

Their very presence transcends politics, religion, ethnic background, marital status, sexism, smokers versus non-smokers, etc.

Volunteers are a luxury, and volunteers are often taken for granted.

Do we, as a nation, remember to say, "Thank you for being?"

YMCA is his home

Photographer Ed Sedej depicts the seemingly lonely life of Bob Salem, a 69-year-old man who has spent the last 35 years of his life in a two-window room on the second floor of the Granite City YMCA.

After failing an Army physical examination in 1945, Salem took a job at American Steel. When his mother died, he took the room at the YMCA by choice.

His room costs $25 per week, and features a single bed, an old chest of drawers, two straight-backed chairs, a table and a cast-iron steam radiator.

There are 41 similar rooms at the YMCA, the only difference being the number of windows. A one-window room costs $22 a week.

No cooking is allowed in the rooms, so Salem leaves his room three times a day to go to a downtown cafe. His daily routine since retiring in 1977 is unchanging. Other than at mealtime, Salem rarely leaves his room. His day is spent watching television on a portable black and white set.

Prior to retirement, Salem swept floors at American Steel and rarely missed a day of work.

He has few friends and keeps to himself at the YMCA. Holidays are spent with his brother and his family.

Salem lives at the YMCA because he wants to, not out of necessity. He says he would move if he liked to cook, but he doesn't. So he stays.

The photographic study of this little-known, long-time resident of Granite City was done by Sedej as part of a specialized independent photojournalism class.

What makes someone change from this... to this?

The temptation to sell your own house is very strong. For some, it's a matter of pride. But the truth is that more than half the people who start out selling their houses themselves end up listing with a broker after months of frustration and wasted time. Before you make the decision to sell your own house—or even if you're trying to talk to your CENTURY 21 Neighborhood Professional—and ask about our exclusives: OUR 20 MILLION DOLLAR ADVERTISING PROGRAM. The largest in the industry, it has helped CENTURY 21 become the organization 9 out of 10 home owners would trust. OUR VIP REFERRAL SERVICE™ helps us locate potential buyers for you locally and around the country. OUR NEGOTIATING SKILLS. CENTURY 21 closes over 1,600 home sales every day. That's $79,000 a year. We know how to negotiate in your best interest. And once your house is sold, we know how to keep it sold.

ACTION WARRANTY™—a written document that tells you exactly what we'll do before, during and after the sale. If we don't, you can sue.

OUR HANDSHAKE, the most binding contract of all. We mean what we say. We give you our word on that. And our sign. At CENTURY 21, We'll Give Our Word To You.

Right "Work Centers" Make Kitchen Efficient

Most homemakers agree that the kitchen is where they spend a great deal of their time. They like it, and they want it to be as modern, pleasant and convenient as possible.

Every kitchen should be divided into three major "work centers," located in relation to the sequence of work to be performed, according to Hotpoint's Kitchen Planning service. The major work centers are the refrigerator center, the sink center and the cooking center.

Ideally, the sequence of work in the kitchen moves from storage, mixing, and other preparation, then to cooking and serving, and finally back to the sink, disposer and dishwasher for cleanup.

There is, or should be, a continuity in all kitchens. Although centers may sound as though they are separate and alone, they are not. They should be reasonably close, and in most cases the counters between two work centers will be shared.

Hotpoint kitchen planners have these comments on each of the centers:

Refrigeration: This center should be located near the door where the supplies enter and should have sufficient drawer, shelf, and counter space to handle the numerous utensils, foodstuffs, and small appliances commonly used. There should be a minimum of 15 inches of work counter at the opening side of the refrigerator; more if possible, especially if it is also the mixing center. Today's side-by-side refrigerator/freezer can be used more efficiently with work space on both sides of the appliance.

Sink: This center handles chores performed in the kitchen during preparation of daily meals and the subsequent cleanup. It is best located in an ample area between the range and refrigerator, and should have at least 24 inches of counter space on each side of the sink, whether the sink is double or single-bowl.

In addition to the dishwasher, space should also be planned to store detergent, cleaning equipment and utensils, and to dispose of trash. A low-cost, highly efficient food waste disposer is recommended to take care of most "wet" garbage, while a trash compactor is an effective means of handling solid non-grindable wastes such as milk containers, bottles and the like. A food waste disposer and compactor can contribute to a neater, cleaner total interior environment.

Cooking: The best location for the cooking center is near the dining area. A counter at each side of the range is important for efficiency as well as safety. There should be a minimum of 12 inches of counter at the side away from another major center, and 24 inches minimum between the range and another major appliance or the sink. (This does not mean 48 inches of counter need be installed between centers; 24 inches is adequate, because the area will be used by both centers as their activities dictate.)

A large amount of storage also is required in this area for pots, pans, trays, utensils, dry foods, and condiments.

Most kitchens will contain one or more minor work centers, according to Hotpoint, so plan ahead to make them work best. A desk, or planning and message center, is essential in today's modern kitchen. It can be as large as needed, or as small as an 8x10-inch shelf with telephone and recipe racks. If space permits, a bulletin board and intercom can be included.
